Masters

Master OF Library and Information Science – 43 units

The top-ranked MLIS program prepares students for exciting careers as information professionals who work in myriad information environments and professional positions. With numerous electives and a variety of course topics available, you can customize your studies to your interests and career goals. Recognized as an “outstanding online program” by the Online Learning Consortium, the MLIS program is accredited with Continued status by the American Library Association.

- Explore the MLIS Program
- MLIS+ Mentored Library Fellowship
- Typical MLIS Careers
- Download a Brochure
- Request More Information
- How to Apply

Master of Archives and Records Administration – 42 units

The MARA program prepares students for careers as archivists, records managers, or information professionals who are ready to work in the fields of corporate archives, electronic records and information governance. This unique program is the first of its kind in the United States and is celebrating its 10-year anniversary in 2018. Delivered fully online, students gain hands-on technology skills while learning both theory and practice.

- Explore the MARA Program
- Typical MARA Careers
- Download a Brochure
- Request More Information
- How to Apply

Master of Science in Informatics  – 30 Units

The MS in Informatics program is ideal for students with technical and non-technical backgrounds who are interested in exploring connections between people and technology. Course work covers the Informatics foundation skill set with a focus in one of three domains: Health (including Telehealth), Sports or Cybersecurity and Privacy.

- Explore the MS in Informatics Program
- Typical Careers
- Download a Brochure

- Request More Information
- How to Apply

master of science in instructional design and technology – 34 units

The San José State University School of Information is expanding its fully online master's degree offerings with a new Master of Science in Instructional Design and Technology. The first cohort begins in fall 2025. This exciting new online master's degree program will prepare students to work in teaching, training, organizational management, and human performance improvement environments.

- Explore the MS in Instructional Design and Technology Program
- Typical Careers
- Request More Information
- How to Apply

Bachelors

Bachelor of Science in Information Science and Data Analytics – 60 units

- Explore the BSISDA Program
- Typical Careers
- Request More Information
- How to Apply

Phd

Gateway PhD in Library and Information Management

The Gateway PhD program is offered through a partnership with Manchester Metropolitan University in Manchester, England. This international research-focused doctoral program affords a unique opportunity for students to earn a PhD in Library and Information Management from Manchester Met without having to relocate to England or disrupt their current careers. From 2008 to 2021, the Gateway PhD program's partner university was Queensland University of Technology in Australia.

- Explore the Gateway PhD Program
- Download a Brochure
- Request More Information
- How to Apply

Credential

California Teacher Librarian Services Credential – 31 units

As a student in our fully online California Teacher Librarian Services Credential program, you'll gain the knowledge and skills necessary for employment in K – 12 schools, including collaboration, technology leadership, and program administration. The 31-unit program course work is approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing. While not required, California Teacher Librarian Services Credential program students are encouraged to complete additional courses and earn their MLIS degree.

- Explore the California Teacher Librarian Services Credential Program
- Download a Brochure
- Request More Information
- How to Apply

Certificate

Advanced Certificate in Digital Assets and Services – 9 units

Gain the practical skills needed to integrate and manage digital and physical assets and make all of it accessible to users by earning your Advanced Certificate in Strategic Management of Digital Assets and Services. Students currently enrolled in our school's master's degree programs have the option to earn the advanced certificate concurrently without incurring additional fees. This program is also open to non-iSchool students. The Advanced Certificate in Digital Assets and Services program is nine units and can be completed in as quickly as two semesters. All courses are delivered fully online.

- Explore the Advanced Certificate Program
- Download a Brochure
- Request More Information
- How to Apply

Human-Centered Artificial Intelligence Certificate – 9 Units

- Explore the Human-Centered AI Undergraduate Certificate Program

Post-Master's Certificate in Library and Information Science – 16 units

Stay on top of 21st century trends and update your professional knowledge in the information field. The Post-Master's Certificate in Library and Information Science program is 16 units and can be completed in as little as one year. Students engage in a collaborative learning environment with graduate students and faculty in our school's ALA-accredited MLIS program. This certificate program is open to individuals who already have a master's degree.

- Explore the Post-Master's Certificate Program
- Download a Brochure
- Request More Information
- How to Apply

Program Courses

Master of Library and Information Science

- Required Courses
- Electives

Master of Archives and Records Administration

- Required Courses
- Electives

Master of Science in Informatics

- Required Courses
- Career Pathways

Master of science in instructional design and Technology

- Required Courses
- Electives

Digital Assets Certificate

- Pathways and Courses

Post-Master’s Certificate

- Pathways and Courses

Professional Development

Open Classes – Variable units

This continuing education program is open to anyone who has a bachelor's degree. Current and future information professionals can enroll in one or more fully online, master's-level courses, and earn college credit. Most electives offered in our school's master's degree programs are available though the Open Classes program. It's a great way to build valuable new skills and/or get a head start on your master's degree.

- Explore the Open Classes Program
- Download a Brochure
- Request More Information
- How to Apply

Culture and Community Symposia and Webcasts

Students, alumni, and information professionals and encouraged to sign up and attend online presentations featuring special guest speakers on a variety of topics, including EDI and National Heritage Month celebrations. The sessions are recorded and made available on the school's website and YouTube Channel.

- Upcoming Webcasts
- On-Demand Webcasts
- Culture & Community YouTube Channel

Coursera Career Academy

iSchool students, alumni, faculty and staff have the incredible opportunity to further their education by taking online courses offered in the Coursera Career Academy. A limited number of licenses will be made available as an opt-in option.

- Learn More about Coursera Career Academy

Library 2.0 Worldwide Virtual Conference

Since 2011, the iSchool has been instrumental in bringing the world together for enlightening conversations about libraries. These online conferences are always free to attend, and the sessions are recorded. Featuring keynote lectures and crowdsourced presentations, the conference theme is fully explored and leaves attendees in deep thought with a list of action items.

- Learn More about the Library 2.0 Worldwide Virtual Conference Series