Tower ID Card:
The Tower Card is your student identification card. Not only does it verify your status as member of the San José State University community, you need it to access the variety of services available only to SJSU students. Last but not the least, you need the Tower Card for door access to academic buildings where your classes are held.
Incoming undergraduates, freshmen or transfer, are sent a message via SJSU Messaging approximately one month before their orientation date inviting them to submit a photo via our online portal myid.sjsu.edu. All students who submit and have their photo approved at least one week before their session should receive their Tower ID Card at the Orientation check-in.

Incoming graduate students are sent a message via SJSU Messaging approximately one month before the start of the term inviting them to submit a photo via our online portal myid.sjsu.edu. The email sent to the student upon photo approval has details on how they can acquire their Tower Card.

Undergraduate students who do not submit their photos on time can still do so after their orientation, but they will need to come to the Tower Card windows in the Student Services Center to pick up their cards. They must be already enrolled in at least one class for the current semester, must bring appropriate government identification, and must Join the Queue when they arrive.
For online students, to obtain a student ID Tower Card you must be enrolled in an SJSU Online course. You will be sent a message via SJSU Messaging approximately two weeks before the start of the term inviting you to submit a photo via our online portal myid.sjsu.edu. Once you have submitted an online photo, provide your mailing address for your tower card to be mailed out. For questions, please email online-student-financials@sjsu.edu.

Matriculated degree-seeking students, are issued an SJSU Tower Card at no additional cost. Open University and Special Session students may be eligible to receive a university card based on their program delivery type.
SJSU Online students must visit the SJSU Online(https://www.sjsu.edu/online/welcome.php) page to view additional instructions on how to receive your Tower Card.
Students attending in person classes, may pick-up IDs at the Tower Card windows in the Bursar's Office located in the Student Services Center.
Staff and faculty cards are issued at the University Personnel(https://www.sjsu.edu/up/mycareer/new-employees/getting-started/tower-card.php) office located in the Administration Building. For any questions or assistance, please contact University Personnel at university-personnel@sjsu.edu.

> Form 1098-T, Tuition Statement is a form that colleges and universities are required to issue to students who pay qualified tuition and related expenses in the preceding tax year. Qualified Tuition and Related Expenses (QTRE) is tuition and fees for the enrollment or attendance of a student for courses of instruction at an eligible institution as a condition of the student's enrollment or attendance at the institution. QTRE's do not include the costs of room and board, insurance, medical expenses, (including student health fees), student activities, transportation, and similar personal, living or family expenses, regardless of whether the fee must be paid to the eligible educational institution for the enrollment of the student at the institution.
> The information being reported to the IRS verifies your enrollment with regard to certain eligibility criteria for the American Opportunity Tax Credit, the Lifetime Learning Tax Credit and the Higher Education Tuition and Fees Deduction. However, the enrollment information by itself does not establish eligibility for either credit or deduction. A 1098-T form must also be provided to each applicable student, either electronically or in paper form, depending on the student's preference.
> How to Read Your Form 1098-T
> Box 1: Payments Received for Qualified Tuition

Box 1 will report payments made toward QTRE in a calendar year. Health services, room and board, insurance, transportation are not considered qualified education expenses by the IRS, so payments made toward these charges will not be reflected on the 1098-T. All other tuition and related expenses paid on the student's account are reported in box 1.
Box 2 is blank because the IRS has determined that institutions may no longer continue to report amounts billed in box 2 for tax year 2018 and beyond.
Box 4: Adjustments to Qualified Tuition from a Prior Reporting Period
Any changes to a prior tax year that resulted in a reduction of payments toward previously reported qualified tuition will be reported in box 4. For example, if the university reports $500 in payments in 2018, but a student retroactively drops a course from 2018 in the 2019 year without fee liability, the dropped value will appear in box 4.
Box 5: Scholarships and Grants Received
Box 5 reports the amount of all scholarships and grants disbursed in a calendar year towards the cost of attendance. Scholarships and grants are defined by the IRS, so may include items that you do not recognize as a scholarship or grant – for example, military benefits and payments from third party organizations. The amount reported in box 5 may exceed the amount reported in box 1.
Box 6: Adjustments to Scholarships and Grants Reported in a Prior Year
Similar to box 4, box 6 reports adjustments to previously reported scholarships and grants from a prior year. If a scholarship or grant is retroactively revoked, the value of the scholarship or grant will be reported in box 6.

SJSU is required to make the form available no later than January 31 following the tax year. Generally, it is available prior to that date, but it will be available no later than January 31.

If eligibility requirements are met and you have provided consent to receive the document electronically, you may obtain your 1098-T form online by following these steps:

The breakdown of the form can be found by the following:

1. Sign in to your MySJSU account
2. Located on the left hand side of the Student Center page, click the down arrow to release the Finances dropdown

Yes. Section 65050S of the Internal Revenue Code, as enacted by the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, requires institutions to file information returns to assist taxpayers and the IRS in determining the amount of qualified tuition and related expenses (qualified expenses) for which an education tax credit is allowable under section 25A (American Opportunity and Lifetime Learning Education tax credits), as well as other tax benefits for higher education expenses.
You are not required to attach the IRS Form 1098-T to your tax return. The primary purpose of the 1098-T is to let you know that SJSU has provided the required information to the IRS to assist them in determining who may be eligible to claim the tuition and fee deduction or education credits. There is no IRS requirement that you claim a tuition and fees deduction or an education related tax credit.
The Bursar's Office is not able to answer tax questions or offer legal advice. Please seek advice from the IRS or a tax professional. Information is also available in the IRS Publication 970 Tax Benefits for Education.
An example can be seen in the following:

See sample 1098-T Tuition Statement [pdf].

Note: Documents in PDF format require the free Adobe Acrobat Reader for viewing.

As required by FERPA (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act), SJSU cannot provide this information directly to parents, other persons who may claim the student as a dependent, or tax preparers. If you are claimed as a dependent on another person's tax returns (such as your parent's), the student needs to provide the Form 1098-T directly to that person.
According to IRS guidelines, SJSU is not obligated to file the 1098-T Tuition Statement or furnish a statement for:
1. Courses for which no academic credit is offered, even if the student is otherwise enrolled in a degree program.
2. Nonresident alien students.
3. Students whose qualified tuition and related expenses are covered by a formal billing arrangement between an institution and the student's employer, third party or a government entity, such as the Department of Veterans Affairs or the Department of Defense.
4. There were no payments in the tax year. For example, many students register and paid prior to December 31 for the spring semester. Those payments are reported in the tax year in which they were paid, which would be prior to January 1 of the following tax year.

This is because you did not provide an SSN/TIN to SJSU. We solicit for the SSN at the time of admission, but it is not a required field on the application as it not a requirement for admission purposes. We then solicit again prior to December 31 each year, requesting the SSN/TIN for eligible students who do not have an SSN/TIN listed in our database. We request that students submit an IRS W-9S form to our office indicating their SSN/TIN, which is then given to the Registrar's Office to update your record.
If you do not provide the SSN/TIN to us, then we are not able to report it. Please note that the IRS can impose a penalty on an individual who is required (but fails) to furnish his or her SSN/TIN to an institution or insurer.

A TIN is the taxpayer's identification number and is issued by the IRS. An SSN is a TIN as well, but is issued by the Social Security Administration. Not all taxpayers are eligible for a SSN. One or the other can be used on the 1098-T form for taxpayer identification purposes.

California institutions of higher education are funded by the State of California. Since non-resident students (and their families) generally have not contributed to the source of this funding of public education in California, they are required to pay fees which more closely represent the actual cost of their education.

AB 540 is the California Nonresident Tuition Exemption that exempts eligible non California residents, including undocumented students, legal permanent residents and U.S. Citizens to pay in-state tuition fees at public colleges and universities in California.
